All New Broadway Successes Next Week By The Champlain Comedy Company.

Coming to the opera house for one week starting Monday, Oct. 2, will be the introduction to this city of the popular "Champlain Comedy," with Miss Kathleen Barry and Louis J. Morgan, and an entirely new line of high class royalty plays, all of which are no doubt familiar to our theatre-goers, as each play has had a long run both in New York City and Boston, and some of them have been presented in Barre at high prices. In selecting the plays this season the management has tried to hit the popular taste.

For those who appreciate the comedy, the management has secured four of the late comedy hits, and for all who favor the drama, the following successes have been secured. "The Final Settlement," "The Road to Happiness," "The Girl He Couldn't Buy," "The Natural Law," "Damaged Goods," etc.

The company surrounding Miss Barry and Mr. Morgan, is an exceptionally strong ray of talent. Each play will be presented with a complete scenic and electrical equipment and every attention has been given to the smallest detail.

The vital and gripping drama, of heart interest, "The Girl He Couldn't Buy," has been chosen for the opening play. It tells the story of the little girl next door. Matinees will be given daily, with the usual popular prices. Evening prices, 10c, 20c and 30c; matinees, adults 20c, children 10c—adv.
